

Android Devices (OS 4.0 or newer)

You will need:

- The Overdrive Media Console app for Android, available from Google Play (if your device doesn't support Google Play, but is an android device, you can download the Android app directly from Overdrive by going to www.overdrive.com/software/omc)
- A library card and pin number
- An Adobe ID
- An email address

If your device supports Google Play, go the Google Play store and search for the “Overdrive Media Console” app:

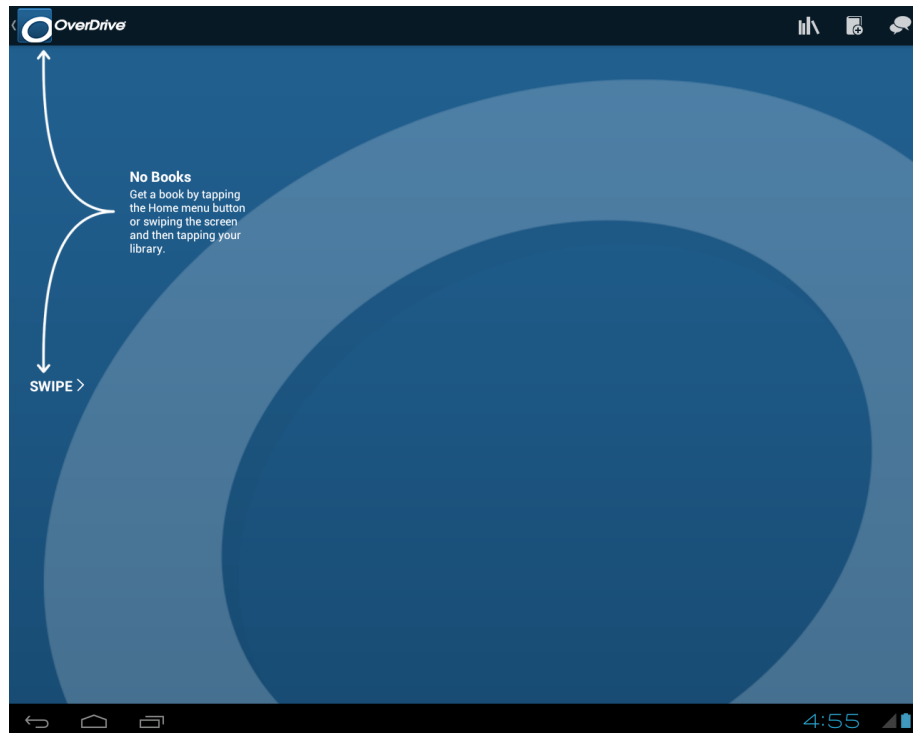

Install the free app on your device and then open it.

You may see an option to use an optional Overdrive account to sync your bookmarks, etc. Choose “Do this later”.

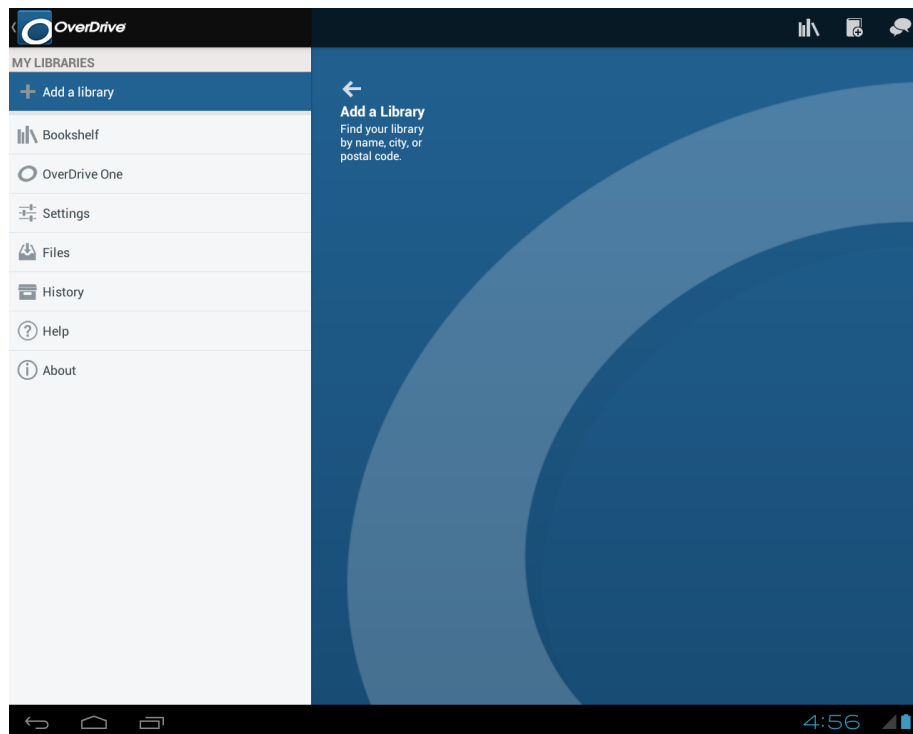

You must authorize the OverDrive app with an Adobe ID. This is a free account created with the software company Adobe. You will be prompted to create an Adobe account:

A screenshot of the Adobe ID authorization screen within the Overdrive Media Console app. The screen has a light gray background. At the top, the status bar shows the time as 11:16 and various icons. The title "Adobe ID" is centered. Below it, a message states: "To read Adobe eBooks, you must authorize this app with your Adobe ID." There are two input fields: "Adobe ID" and "Password". Below the password field, there is a checkbox labeled "Show password" and a link labeled "Forgot password?". A blue "Authorize" button is positioned below the input fields. Underneath the button, the text "Don't have an Adobe ID?" is displayed, followed by a gray button labeled "Create a free Adobe ID". At the bottom of the screen, there is a blue link that says "Do this later". The Android navigation bar is visible at the very bottom.

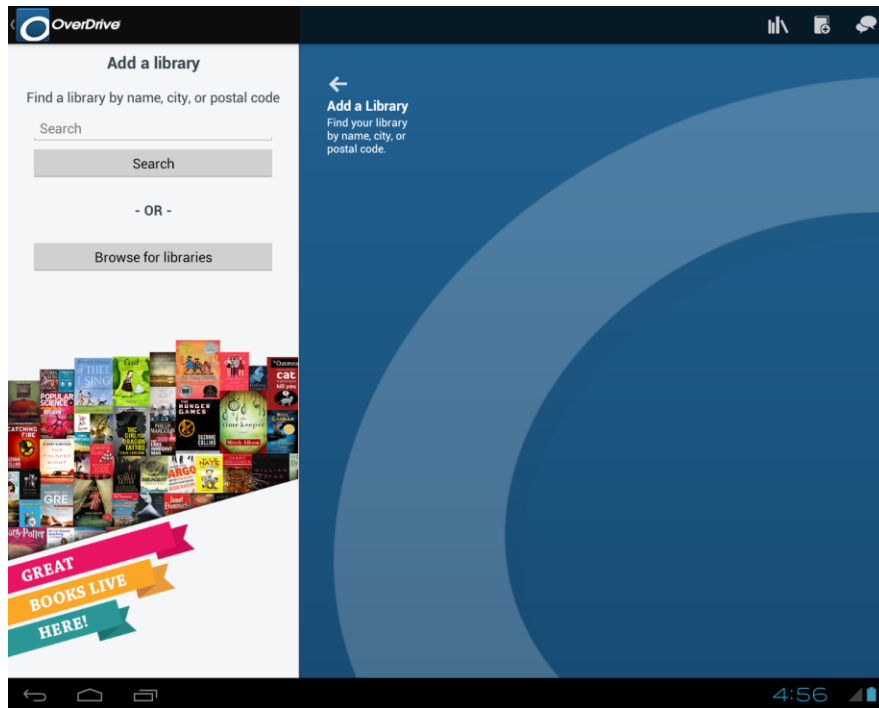

After you authorize the app, you will see a screen similar to the picture below:

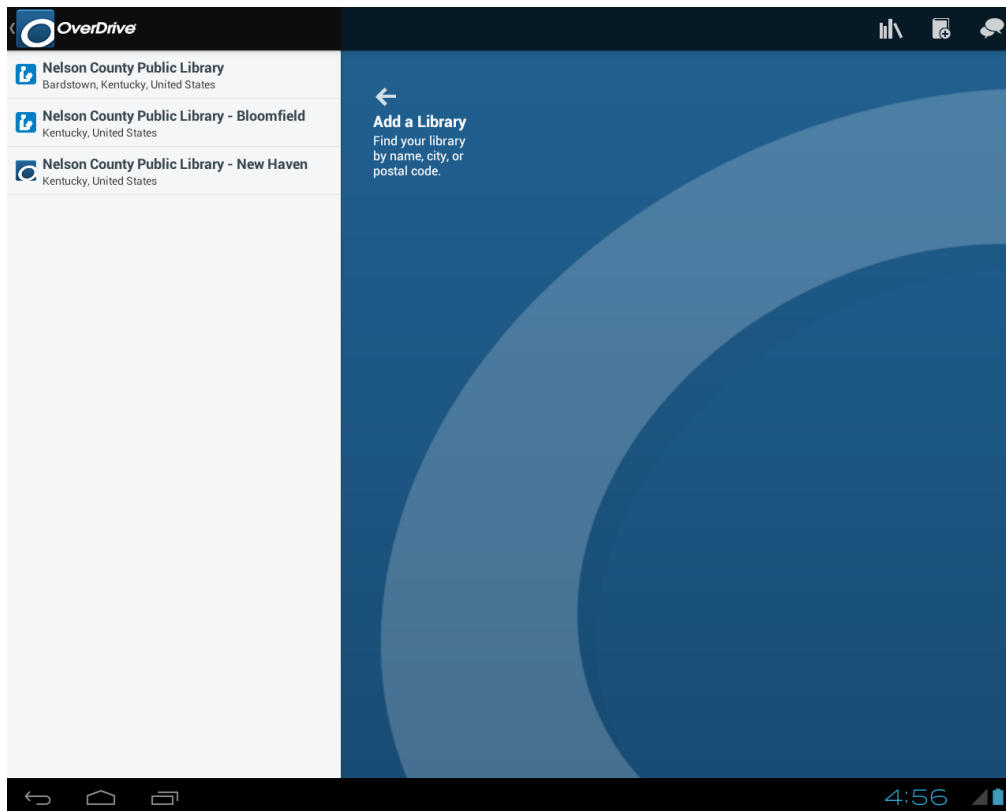

Swipe your finger from the left side of the screen towards the middle to add our library:

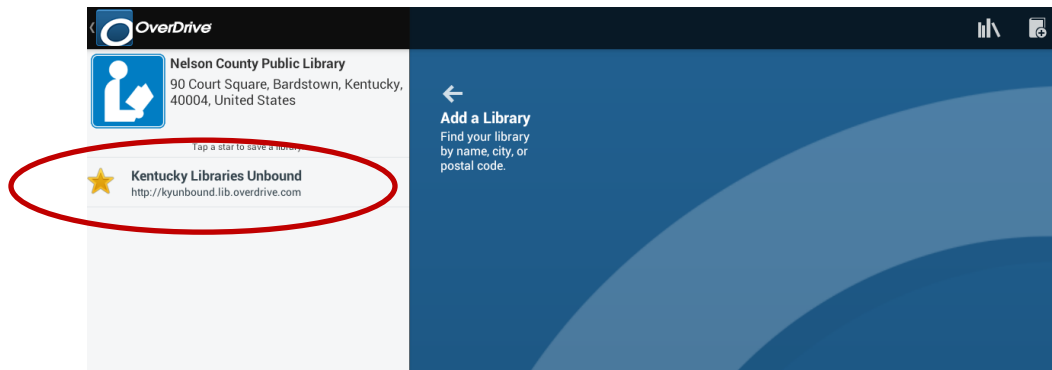

Type in a Nelson County zip code to find our library:

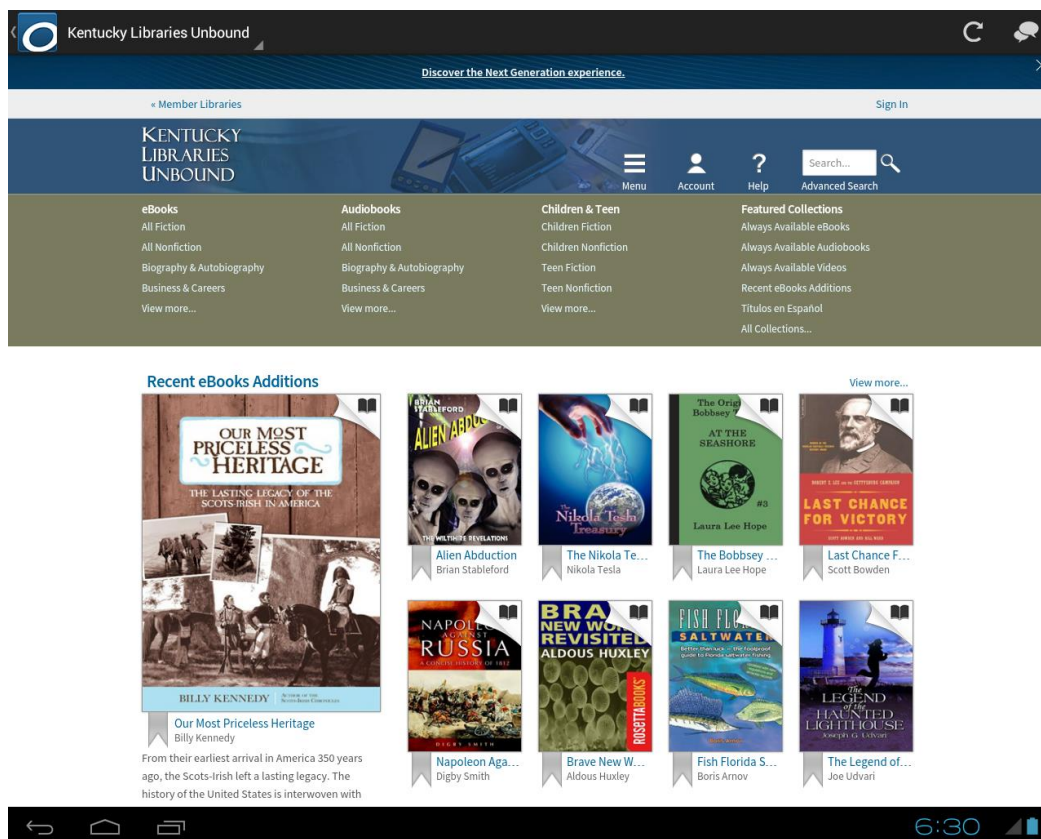

Choose any of the three Nelson County Public Library locations:

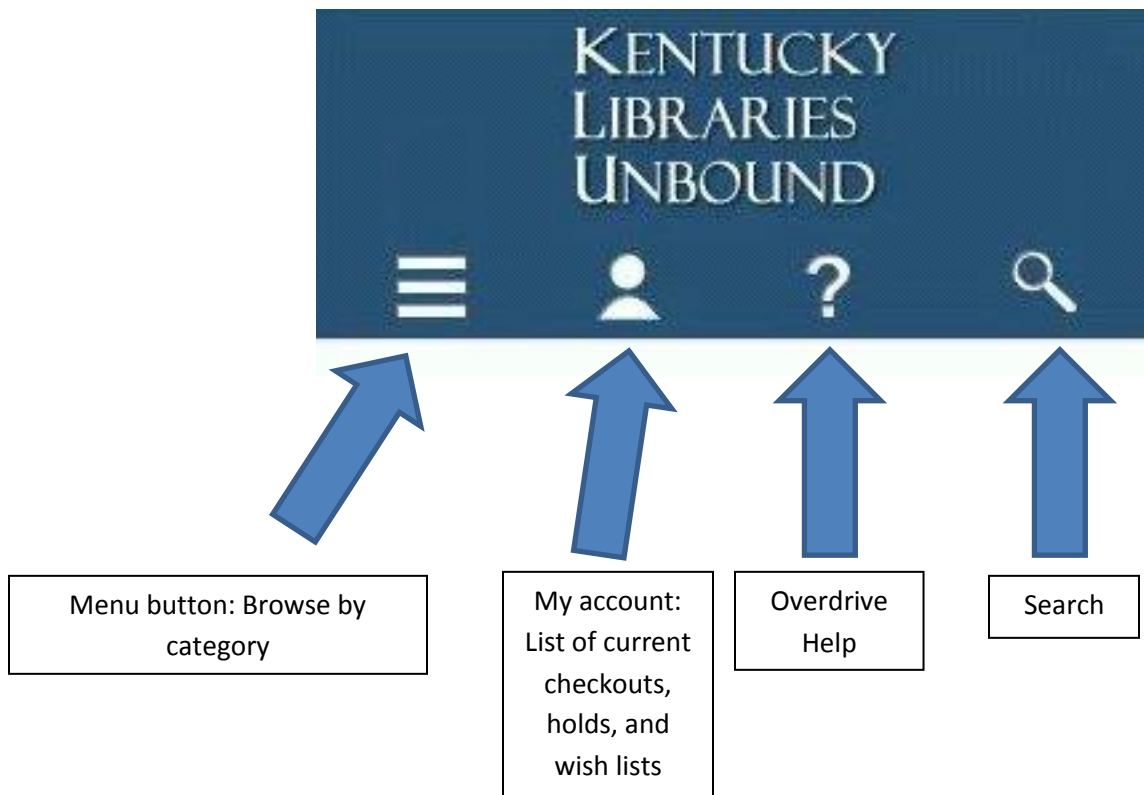

Then tap the star next to “Kentucky Libraries Unbound” to save our library on your device. Then tap the words “Kentucky Libraries Unbound” to go to the library’s digital catalog.

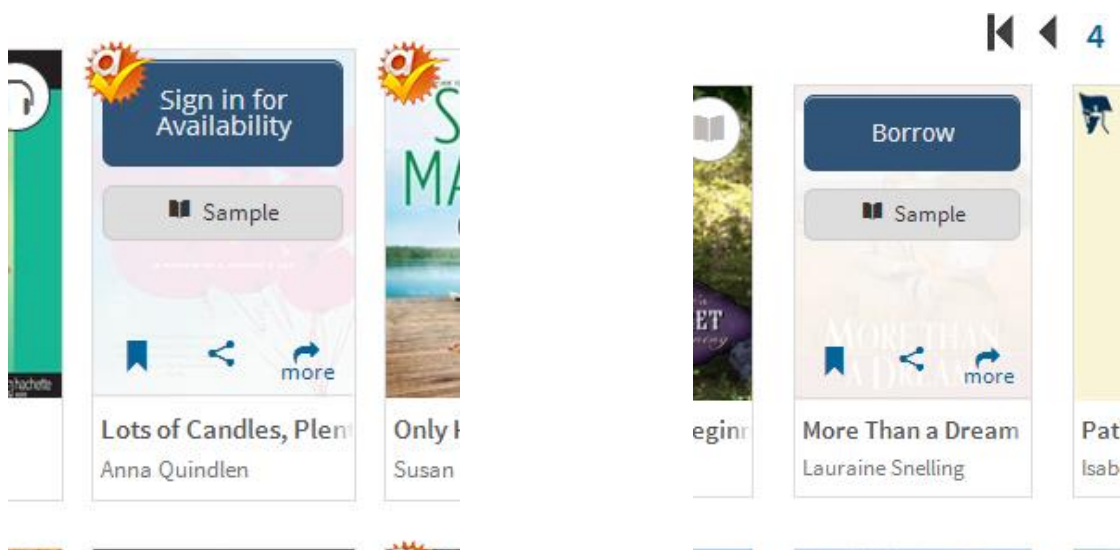

The Kentucky Libraries Unbound catalog is the place to search for and check out downloadable materials from the library:

The buttons listed below are used to navigate the Kentucky Libraries Unbound website:

Once you find a book/audiobook to checkout, tap the cover and you will see either “Sign in for Availability”, “Borrow”, or “Place a Hold”. You will also see a bookmark icon that you may use to add the book to a wish list, a “share” icon, and an arrow that says “more”. Tapping “more” will lead you to a synopsis of the book.

To sign in, you will then need to tap the arrow to the right of “select library” and choose Nelson County from a list:

If you tapped “Place a Hold”, you will be asked to provide an email address to be notified when the book is available. If you tap “Sign in for availability”, you will then tap either “Borrow” or “Place a Hold” after signing in.

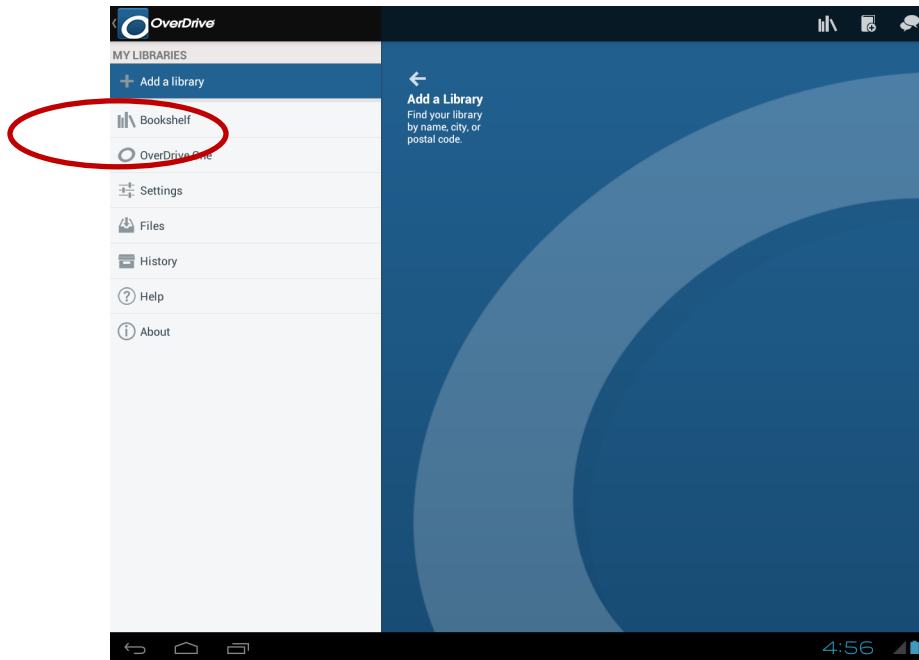

After you tap “Borrow”, you are ready to download the book or audiobook. If you are downloading an audiobook, choose the MP3 Audiobook format. If you are downloading an ebook, choose the Adobe EPUB format:

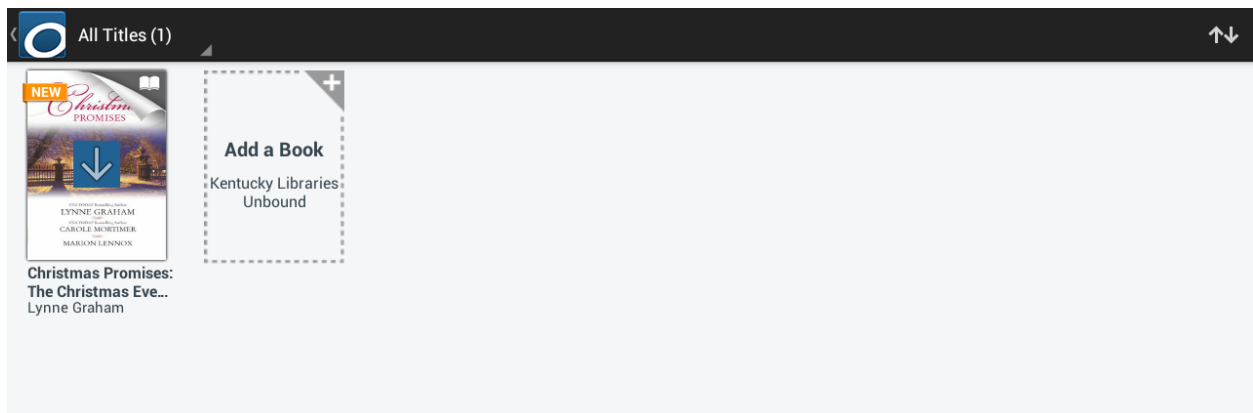

You will see a message saying that your book/audiobook is loading:

To open a book or audiobook that you have downloaded, swipe your finger from the left side to the right to open the home menu and tap “Bookshelf”:

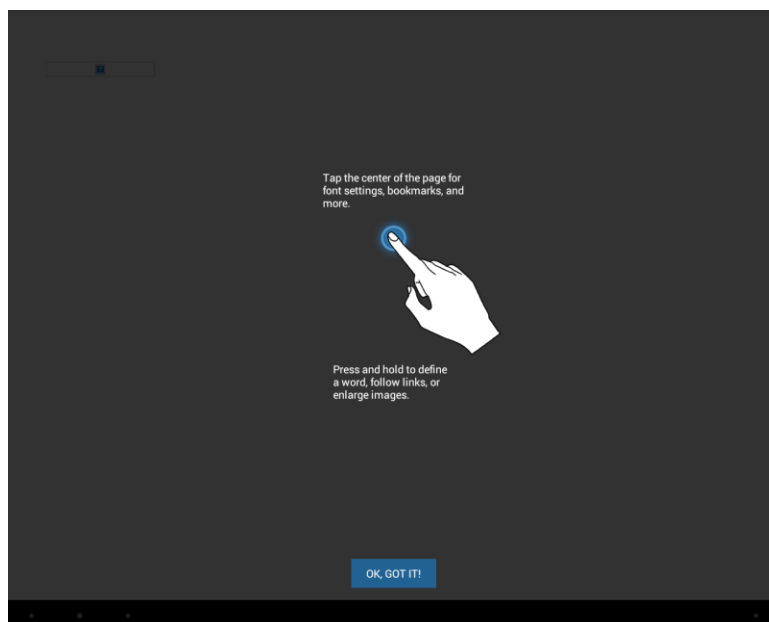

You will then be able to tap the cover of the book to open it:

To return, delete, or share information about a book that you have downloaded, press and hold your finger on the book cover:

Tap the center of the page to change font, color, etc:
